Wise pitched a marvelous game, as only five bise hits were made, and had he had the proper support of the out-field the number of base hits would have been much smaller. Holden also pitched a very good game, considering that the Post-Office have among their number some very hard and safe batters. Walker made his reappearance with the Post-Office, filling a place upon the nine long needed since his determination to quit the diamond. Diehi met with a misfortune by having his hands split open between the second and third fingers, as though cut with a knile, but on this occasion the ball filled the place of the knile. The many friends of that delectable crew of old salts," yelept " the Innocents Abroad," have returned to the city, and their ship has been put out of commission and the joily tars turned loss upon their native heath. Will Short hitches his upon their native heath. Will Short hitches his trousers, shivers his timbers, and sails in the wake of a flame-colored, weather-beaten nose that cannot be equalled even by the rosey little hasal organ of the representative of the Criffe who spent hist week exposed to the forvent sums of Cape May. Baker's gait has been transformed into a regular man-of-war's man waddle, and he is compelled to chew a small quid of tarry oakum to satisfy his wild longings for a wet sheet and a flowing sea. It is expected that the boys will gradually recover from those marked effects of the cruise, which causes them to exclaim "Hard-a-lee!" and duck their heads overy time the conductor on an Avenue car reaches up for the bell-strap. The ship's log has a me queer incidents recorded upon it, which indicate that there was a lively time experienced by the whole crew in nav-gaing their craft at the various popular resorts where the mud-hook was dr-pped and the gallant yachtsmen had liberty to go ashore.

The Rechabite Encampment. ple from Uniontown and East Washington. Long before the exercises were opened the tent was filled with the friends of the order, while at the outskirts of the crowd were those who had been impelled to attend by curiosity. The usual order of speeches, interspersed with excellent vocal music, made up the entertainment of the evening. From the marked attention which was paid the different speakers it was evident that the object of the encampment is being gained, and that numerous reformations will result. As on the previous evening, the darreing payllion was the center of attraction for the young folks, and has aided greatly in bringing people to the celebration.

The Garibaidi Monument.

The Garibaidi Society have completed all their arrangements for the grand fete to be held at the Schnetzen Park on Thursday, September 7, and present indications point to a triumphant success. The Marine Band have granultously lends edith if a styless for the occasion, and speeches will be delivered by W. F. Peddrick, Hon. Smon Wolf, and Dr. Verdi. In addition to other attractions there with be danching prize-bowling, and shooting, and in the evening the park will be brilliantly illuminoisel with over 16,000 gas jets. The proceeds will be devoted towards execting in this city a mounment to the great hero and liberator Garibaidi. It is very appropriete that his bant should adorn this city, and for that reason they fete should be liberally patronized. The Garibaldi Monument.

National Rifles' Excursion The last excursion of the season to be given by that pet organization, the National Rifles, will take place on Tuesday evening, September 5. The Coreoran has been engaged for the occasion and the Marine Band will furnish the music. The committee having the matter in charge have completed all their arrangements, and are extremely gratified at the number of tickets already told. There is no doubt that this excursion will be the largest of the season, and of course fully as enjoy-able as the others have been.

Aranemy of Holy Closs, will respect to the session on Monday, September 4. The scademy occupies spacious premises at 1812 Massachusetts avenue, and is under the direction of the Sisters of the H.dy Cross, who have had such a marked succes in the training and preparation of young ladies. In addition to an excellent curriculum of studies, due regard is paid to the moral training of the pupils entrusted to the excellent care of the Sisters.

Ford's Opera House.

The heat seemed to have no deterent effect in keeping the vast audience away from Ford's Opera House, and when the curtain rolled up last night the house was again packed. The audience langhed at George Thatcher's jokes until they cried, and only stopped because they had no more breath left. To-day they give a matine at 2 o'clock, and to-night the cicsing performance.

That Baltimore will be given over to the merry makers of the Mystle Organization and the Orlole on September 12, 13, and 14 there can be no doubt. The Orlole has been at work for the past four mouths getting things in shape, while the other organizations have been by no means backward. The military day (the 12th) there will be a grand paried of military, police, and fire department. The military companies from various chiefs have determined to parade, making in all a handsome display. The pageant Thursday will be begond description; thousands of dollars have already been expended, and no expense will be spared to make it the handsomes of the kind ever held in the country. Now, to wastingtonians who wish to go to the Orlole the B. and O. H. B., that eld, tred, and true corporation, will run special tradus, leaving at short intervals, each day, making the time between here and Baltimore in about one hour, with their magnificent cars and smooth steel rails, with fares at one-half, or one whole fare for round trip.

The National Theater inaugurates the season next Monday with Barlow, Wilson & Co.'s minstrels. This is a troupe that has been received with favor wherever they have performed. The Baltimore Day, speaking about them, says: "The season opened at Holliday Street Theater last night season opened at Holliday Street Theater last night under very favorable anspices. The house was packed in every corner with an audience that assembled for the express purpose of having a hearty laugh, and they certainly had it. The performance of Barlow, Wilson & Co.'s minetrels fully justified their assertion that they are the best and most complete organization now traveling." The Bultimore San has the following criticism: "Every available seat was taken and the performances were received by the audience with round after round of deserved applause. Wilson and Barlow, the end men, were in their happiest mo-d, and divided the honors with the folly Cal Warner. The
